Project Highlights

- Vendorly
 - I managed a dedicated on-demand vendor booking platform, wearing multiple hats. This included strategizing future development, analyzing the competitive landscape, fostering client relationships through weekly calls, and supporting developers for a seamless development experience.
- HCT
 - My contribution at HCT, a cutting-edge fintech app, involved managing member requirements and comprehensively documenting the entire user flow for both e-wallet features and luxury services. This ensured all functionalities worked seamlessly.
- ListingPix
 - I spearheaded the development of Listingpix, an on-demand photographer booking application. This involved everything from gathering user requirements to delivering the final product. The app included a unique feature - an AI-powered photo processing tool for photographers.
