A LITTLE ABOUT ME

Growing up in Bombay, I always harbored a passion for the creative industry. My fascination with the fashion world led me to enroll in a design college, but eventually, I found myself in the film industry. My experience has primarily been in long-term projects, including feature films and web series. However, I am eager to branch out and explore other areas, particularly in the AD industry, commercials, and short films.

My main interest is creating and ideating characters along with a decent understanding in fabrics and garment construction. I am well versed with the Bombay markets and vendors, and I also work well under pressure.
