About me:

Business management, Business communication, Finance and Digital marketing are the areas wherein I specialize. I am an Artist, Calligrapher and a Graphic designer in my spare time. I have a number of certificates and a bachelor's degree from a prestigious university in India, and I am currently pursuing my PGDM and MBA from one of South Africa's top five business schools. I'm knowledgeable in a broad range of business management techniques, including predicting, analytics, costing, and branding. Budget management, stakeholder management, and financial management are all areas in which I excel.

I recently received certification as a business management expert after completing a Premiership in Business Management course at ICTRD Nagpur. I also just passed IBMI Germany's Business Language Assessment Test and received certification as a proficient English language speaker. In the future, I intend to continue doing what I do best: assisting businesses in getting the most out of their investments.
